EIGHTH-RANKED OKLAHOMA BATTLES PIONEERS IN THE MILE HIGH CITY

The Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad makes its fourth road appearance in five weeks on Saturday, traveling to Denver, Colo., for a meeting with the 22nd-ranked Denver Pioneers at 7 p.m. (CT), inside Hamilton Gymnasium. It's DU's Burnsley Invitational/Link to Pink Meet in support of breast cancer awareness, as the squads will wear pink leotards and the fans will have the opportunity to donate via pledge cards called "Stick it to Cancer," with all profits going to the Denver Komen Foundation.

OU is coming off of a 196.175-196.000 defeat at No. 12 Nebraska in which the Sooners were forced to count their first fall on bars this season. Oklahoma rebounded from its initial struggles on the apparatus with three-straight team scores of 49-plus to close the meet, including a 49.325 on beam in which every OU gymnast posted a score of 9.825 or higher.

Ashley Jackson and Haley DeProspero finished one-two in the all-around standings against the Huskers, as Oklahoma picked up event wins on vault and beam, while also notching individual titles on vault (Jackson - career-high 9.925) and bars (Jessica Kinder - career-high 9.85).

The Sooners lead the Big 12 on all four events and are the only conference squad to hold a 49-plus average on any apparatus (vault, bars and floor exercise).

Oklahoma defeated the Pioneers in both 2008 meetings. The two squads squared off in Denver in a quad meet on Feb. 9, with the Sooners besting all four squads, including a 195.925-195.700 victory over second-place DU. OU posted a 196.075 in the first session of the NCAA preliminaries, while Denver scored a 194.200 in the night session.

OPPONENT PREVIEW

Denver enters Saturday's matchup with Oklahoma off of a 197.025-193.350 loss at Alabama on Feb. 6. The Pioneers were led by senior All-American Jessica López, who won the all-around title against the Crimson Tide with her second-straight 39.500. López paced DU on each event, capturing a pair of titles with a season-high 9.925 on bars and a 9.900 on floor.

López shares second nationally in the all-around rankings with a season average of 39.500.

Tickets for the meet can be purchased by calling the DU Ticket Office at 303-871-2336. Tickets are also available on-line at www.DenverPioneers.com.

2008 Big 12 Champs

Ashley Jackson

Jackson won her second all-around title of the season with a career-high 39.375 against Nebraska en route to Big 12 Gymnast of the Week honors. The Hudsonville, Mich., native also earned the vault title against the Huskers with a career-high 9.925.

On the year, Jackson has posted five individual titles including 11 routines of 9.8 or greater, with a 9.925 vault score (NU) and a 9.95 floor tally (TWU).

PRACTICE POLICY

Practices are held at the Sam Viersen Center, directly north and across the street (Imhoff) from the Lloyd Noble Center. Practices are typically open to media. However, those who wish to attend must obtain clearance through Phillip Rogers in the Media Relations Office prior to the start of practice. Practice generally runs from 10:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. The best time to conduct interviews is immediately following practice.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Media credentials for home contests at the Lloyd Noble Center should be requested no later than one day prior to the event. All requests should be directed to Phillip Rogers in the Media Relations Office at (405) 325-8413 or by e-mail to philliprogers@ou.edu.

POST-MEET INFORMATION

Post-meet interviews will take place on the main floor of the Lloyd Noble Center after head coach K.J. Kindler dismisses her athletes. Official score sheets will be available at the scorer's table.

MEDIA INTERVIEWS

Non-postmeet interview requests for athletes and coaches must be arranged through Phillip Rogers in the Media Relations Office. All requests should be submitted at least one day in advance of the desired interview time.

REGULAR SEASON SENSATIONS

Oklahoma has won 33 of its last 37 regular-season matchups dating back to Jan. 19, 2007.

ASHLEY JACKSON SNAGS WEEKLY HONOR

University of Oklahoma senior all-arounder Ashley Jackson was named Big 12 Gymnast of the Week by the conference office on Feb. 10. It's the first conference honor of the season for the Hudsonville, Mich., native who posted career highs on vault (9.925) and the all-around (39.375), capturing the two titles at No. 12 Nebraska on Feb. 8.

The weekly conference honor is the second of Jackson's career, as she was also named Big 12 Gymnast of the Week the first week of February a year ago. The honor comes a week after fellow Oklahoma gymnast Melanie Root was named co-Big 12 Event Specialist of the Week.

The Big 12's top-ranked all-around competitor, Jackson also posted a season-high 9.825 on beam and took second on bars (9.825) against the Huskers. She is ranked No. 18 nationally in the all-around and 15th on vault and floor.

STILL NEAR THE TOP

OU's team tally of 197.175 at TWU on Jan. 17 is the second-best mark in the NCAA this season. Only Georgia, winner of the last four NCAA Championships, has bested the Sooners' score (197.250).

HOW THE TEAMS STACK UP

The Sooners lead the South Central Region on vault and beam, while standing second on bars and floor exercise. In the North Central Region, Denver is second on vault, fourth on bars, fifth on beam and second on floor. If it should come down to the final event - OU has posted a final-event average of 49.258 on beam in road competitions, while Denver has averaged a 48.650 on floor in its three home meets.

AMONG THE REGIONS BEST

The Sooners (196.075) are one of only two squads in the South Central Region to hold an average above 196.000 through the first month of the 2009 season (Arkansas is the other at 196.112). The two squads hold a clear advantage over the other 10 region foes as Nebraska (195.385) and Missouri (195.130) are the only other teams with an average above 195.000.

NOT ACTING LIKE NEWCOMERS

Of the 35 routines that have been competed by gymnasts making their first collegiate appearance on the respective apparatus in 2009, a remarkable 21 (.600) have gone for a 9.8 or better. Four of seven routines against Nebraska tallied a 9.8 or better, a week after six of their seven routines were scored at a 9.8 or greater against Minnesota.

ROAD SWEET ROAD

Posting a then-NCAA-best 197.175 in Denton, Texas, on Jan. 17, it appears that the road could be kind to the Sooners again this season. Three of Oklahoma's top four scores last season, including a season-best-tying 196.750 at Arkansas, came on the road for the Sooners. Going further, five of OU's top seven scores in 2008 were outside of Norman.

CONFERENCE ALL STARS

Oklahoma holds the top spot in the season team average and on all four individual event rankings in the latest Troester rankings. The Sooners are the only Big 12 squad to hold a 49-plus rankings on any event (vault, beam and floor).

KINDER STEPS UP

The fifth-year senior entered the year without a collegiate event title to her credit, but has already snagged a pair of titles on the young year. Kinder's latest event crown came on bars against Nebraska, after a career-high 9.85. The feat is even more remarkable considering Kinder hadn't event competed on bars until this season. The Kansas City, Mo., native also posted a career-high 9.9 on floor against Minnesota for her first collegiate victory.

DEPROSPERO'S BACK IN THE ALL-AROUND

Senior Haley DeProspero made her first appearance in the all-around against Nebraska, finishing second to teammate Ashley Jackson. DeProspero is still nursing a lingering knee injury and hadn't competed on vault prior to OU's trip to Lincoln.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES

The Sooners would be well suited in convincing junior Kristin Smith that she is always competing on the road. In Norman, Smith holds a beam average of 9.29 dating back to the start of last season, but that number jumps to 9.71 (including her top four scores on the apparatus) in road competition. The junior gymnast has already posted a pair of 9.875s in away routines.

ROOT GARNERS FIRST CONFERENCE HONOR

University of Oklahoma gymnast Melanie Root was named co-Big 12 Event Specialist of the Week by the conference office on Feb. 3. It's the first conference honor for the Cartersville, Ga., native who tied career highs on vault (9.875) and bars (9.825) against No. 21 Minnesota en route to her first collegiate event title (vault). Root shared the Big 12 accolade with Iowa State's Ceilia Maccani, who scored a career-best 9.85 on beam and a 9.75 on vault in the Cyclone's loss to Michigan. On the year, 50 percent of Root's routines (four-of-eight) have gone for a score of 9.8 or better.

PROTECTING THE HOUSE

The Sooners are 14-1 in their last 15 regular season home meets. Before Oklahoma's loss to Arkansas, its last home defeat before the postseason came at the hands of an Iowa State team that was coached by K.J. Kindler - OU's current head coach.

THREE IN A ROW FOR VISE

Hollie Vise won her third-straight bars title with a 9.875 against Minnesota on Jan. 30. Also picking up a win on beam against the Golden Gophers (shared with teammate Megan Ferguson), Vise has tallied five event wins during 2009 action. The Dallas, Texas., native is well ahead of her pace last season, when she claimed seven titles throughout the year (four on bars, three on beam).

FRESHMEN PHENOMS

OU's Megan Ferguson and Sara Stone have either led the Sooners outright or tied for the team event high on five occasions already this season. Ferguson paced the Sooners on bars against Florida (9.85), tied for the beam crown against TWU (9.925) and shared top beam honors for the Sooners against Minnesota (9.875), while Stone's 9.875 on vault against Arkansas was a team high a week after sharing vault honors with Ashley Jackson against TWU.

CAREER HIGHS FOR A PAIR

Along with Melanie Root's career-high 9.875 on vault, Jessica Kinder posted a personal-best 9.8 on bars against the Golden Gophers. Kinder, a fifth-year senior in the Oklahoma program, just started competing on bars in 2009. The Kansas City, Mo., native has posted scores of 9.7 or better all three times on the apparatus.

NATALIE'S NIGHT

While many Sooners had trouble on beam against the Razorbacks, the same cannot be said of Natalie Ratcliff. The sophomore posted a 9.825 on the apparatus in just her second collegiate beam routine - a week after posting a 9.875 on the event in her beam debut at TWU. Ratcliff also posted a career-high 9.825 on vault for the Sooners against Arkansas.

BUST OUT THE BROOMS

OU swept all individual and event titles against TWU, marking the first time this season that it had won every crown of the dual meet. The Sooners swept all four team event titles seven times a year ago.

CAREER BESTS APLENTY

Nine Oklahoma gymnasts either set or tied a total of 12 personal bests against TWU on Jan. 17. Below is a run-down from OU's spectacular night:

Haley DeProspero (1): Beam - 9.925

Megan Ferguson (3): Bars - 9.85, Beam - 9.925*, Floor - 9.775*

Jackie Flanery (1): Floor - 9.9

Ashley Jackson (1): Floor - 9.95*

Natalie Ratcliff (1): Beam - 9.875*

Melanie Root (1): Bars - 9.825*

Kristin Smith (1): Floor - 9.9*

Sara Stone (2): Vault - 9.875*, Floor - 9.775*

Hollie Vise (1): Beam - 9.925*

* - Established new career best

NATASHA KELLEY TO REDSHIRT

OU freshman Natasha Kelley will redshirt the 2009 season after an achilles injury sustained during the fall training period. The Katy, Texas, native is Oklahoma's most heralded recruit since NCAA Champion Kelly Garrison after spending 2004-2008 as a member of the US Elite National Team. The '05 USA Elite Junior National champion (all-around, beam, floor) was also the silver medalist at the 2006 World Championships and '07 American Cup.

MEET THE NEWCOMERS

OU gymnastics fans also will have their first chance to see OU's freshman class of Megan Ferguson, Natasha Kelley, Sara Stone and Hailey Wagner in collegiate action at the Lloyd Noble Center in 2009. While Kelley is redshirting the year after an injury during the fall, Ferguson and Stone are inked into the tentative starting lineup against Minnesota. Baylor transfer Julie Kramer also joined the Sooners over the summer and will provide depth to the vault lineup.

OU's 2008-09 recruiting class of Ferguson, Kelley, Stone and Wagner was the sixth-best group in the country, according to a recent CollegeGymFans.com Top-10 Women's Recruiting Classes poll. The Sooners ranked behind No. 1 UCLA and '08 NCAA Championships Super Six squads Georgia (second), Alabama (third), Florida (fourth) and Stanford (fifth). Oklahoma was the only squad from the Big 12 Conference and South Central Region named to the list.

THE EXPERIENCE FACTOR

Vault (5): Flanery, Kinder, Jackson, DeProspero, Mantle
 Bars (4): Mantle, Jackson, DeProspero, Vise

BOWLING INTO THE NEW YEAR

Although the gymnastics schedule was set months before the bowl lineups were announced, the OU gymnastics squad opened up its season slate with Oklahoma's football bowl opponent for the second straight year. The Sooners squared off with the Gator gymnastics squad on Jan. 9, less than 24 hours after meeting Florida in the BCS National Championship game. Oklahoma and West Virginia met in the second session of the Cancun Classic in their season opener a year ago, a day after OU's football squad faced the Mountaineers in the Fiesta Bowl.

OKLAHOMA INKS THREE TO 2009 CLASS

Head Coach K.J. Kindler and the Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad announced the signing of three gymnasts to National Letters of Intent on Nov. 12, the first day of the early signing period. Oklahoma native Bethany Neubauer (Edmond, Okla.), Kayla Nowak (Algonquin, Ill.) and Brie Olson (St. Cloud, Minn.) will join the Sooners next fall.

NEBRASKA RECAP

The seventh-ranked Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad dropped a 196.175-196.000 decision at No. 12 Nebraska on Sunday afternoon in Lincoln, Neb. The Sooners put a scare in the hometown crowd at the Bob Devaney Center, posting a 49.325 on beam in their final event to narrow the gap, but it wasn't quite enough as OU dropped to 2-3 on the year.

Oklahoma picked up event wins on vault and beam, while also notching individual titles on vault (Ashley Jackson - 9.925) and bars (Jessica Kinder - 9.85). Jackson and Haley DeProspero finished one-two in the all-around with scores of 39.375 and 39.150, respectively.

OU had won its last seven regular season meetings against Big 12 opponents before today's defeat, dating back to a 196.100-196.00 victory at Missouri on Feb. 17, 2006. Oklahoma's last previous loss to a conference opponent during the regular season was at the hands of a K.J. Kindler-led Iowa State squad on Feb. 10, 2006, by a score of 196.275-196.050.

MINNESOTA RECAP

The No. 7 Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad defeated 21st-ranked Minnesota 196.500-195.675 on Jan. 30, in front of 1,540 fans at the Lloyd Noble Center in OU's "Beauty and the Beast" spectacular. The Sooners shared the floor with the Oklahoma wrestling squad, who rolled over N.C. State by a final score of 38-6.

OU won three events on the night, as Oklahoma gymnasts also took home individual titles on vault (Melanie Root - 9.875), bars (Hollie Vise - 9.875) and floor (Jackie Flanery, Haley DeProspero and Ashley Jackson - 9.85 for all three).

"We were much more consistent with our landings throughout the night and beam was much better for the most part than our last time out," said OU head coach K.J. Kindler. "I thought we also brought a lot more energy into the event and sustained that throughout the night. It was a great atmosphere, with support from both the wrestling and gymnastics fans, as the event was a big success for both Oklahoma squads."

OU burst out of the gates with a season-high 49.200 on vault as the final five Oklahoma gymnasts posted scores of 9.8 or greater.

ARKANSAS RECAP

The seventh-ranked Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad (1-2) dropped a 195.625-196.900 decision in its home opener to No. 8 Arkansas (4-1) at the Lloyd Noble Center on Monday night. The Sooners were in it through two rotations, but beam proved the difference maker as the Sooners scored a 48.325 on the apparatus, while the Razorbacks posted a 49.275 en route to a program-best team tally.

It was OU's first regular season dual loss in Norman since Feb. 10, 2006, against Iowa State - a span of 12 consecutive match ups. The defeat was the first to the Razorbacks in program history, as the Sooners entered tonight's dual meet with a 4-0 record against Arkansas - including two wins in 2008.

"We were right in it until we went to beam," said OU head coach K.J. Kindler. "Unfortunately, beam was a polar opposite from our last time out against TWU. We counted far too many wobbles and it ended up being the difference tonight. Give credit to Arkansas, they performed very well tonight."

TWU RECAP

The ninth-ranked Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad (1-1) posted the highest score in the NCAA this season en route to a 197.175-189.600 victory against Texas Woman's University (0-1) on Jan. 17. The Sooners claimed every team and individual event title of the dual meet in front of a capacity crowd of 1,107 inside Kitty Magee Arena on the TWU campus.

Posting their best team score since Jan. 24, 2004 (197.300), the Sooners claimed the highest score in the NCAA in 2009. Entering the competition with the top score in the NCAA was Georgia (winner of the last four national titles) with a mark of 196.85.

With the victory, Oklahoma has won 32 of its last 34 regular-season matchups dating back to Jan. 19, 2007.

"It's a real confidence builder as we continue our season," said head coach K.J. Kindler. "In all honesty, I saw ten times as much energy, confidence and enthusiasm as we showed at Florida. It started out with a bang with a great bars set. I thought we did a much better job with our dismounts and stuck landings and it's always nice to end with one of those beam nights that you'll never forget."

Oklahoma was without the services of Haley DeProspero on vault and floor and senior all-arounder Jessica Kinder on all four events, yet still posted all four event scores of 49.125 or better.

FLORIDA RECAP

The No. 10 University of Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad dropped a season-opening dual meet to the third-ranked Florida Gators by a score of 196.500-195.075 in front of a Stephen O'Connell Center crowd of 4,856 in Gainesville, Fla., on Jan. 9.

"I thought we came out a little flat overall," said head coach K.J. Kindler. "In front of a great Florida crowd, I was very proud of some of our newcomers including our bars lineup which included three girls making their career debuts and all hit. We had some uncharacteristic falls from some of our veterans including Hollie Vise and Jackie Flanery, but I'm sure we can learn from this experience and improve as the season progresses."

"We also had a couple of late fill-in's including Sara Stone on floor for Haley (DeProspero), who I thought performed well considering the last-second switch. Also, Jessica Kinder went four-for-four in her first all-around performance and must be commended."

As a whole, Oklahoma couldn't match its regular-season success against squads from the Southeastern Conference from a year ago, when the Sooners posted season highs in wins against both SEC squad's they faced before the postseason (196.75 against Auburn - March 7 and Arkansas - March 15).

OU senior Ashley Jackson finished third in the all-around (39.125), behind Florida All-American's Melanie Sinclair (39.425) and Corey Hartung (39.375).

Other Sooner bright spots included runner-up finishes on three of the four events - (Jackson - 9.825 on vault, Megan Ferguson - 9.85 on bars and Haley DeProspero - 9.875 on beam).

KIARA REDMOND NAMED TEAM MANAGER

Former OU All-American Kiara Redmond has re-joined the Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad as team manager for the 2008-09 season. The appointment was announced Aug. 8 by head coach K.J. Kindler. Redmond, one of the most decorated gymnasts in program history, completed her eligibility last May after earning All-America honors on vault, beam, floor and in the all-around at the 2008 NCAA Championships in Athens, Ga.

SHOWING OFF THEIR SMARTS

For the second consecutive season, five members of the Oklahoma women's gymnastics team earned National Association of Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches All-American Scholar Athlete Awards, the NACGC announced Aug. 6.

Haley DeProspero, Caitlin Hinkis, Jessica Kinder, Gina Lesko and Mary Mantle garnered Oklahoma's accolades with Hinkis and Kinder both earning perfect 4.0 GPA's for the academic year. The pair was the only gymnasts in the Big 12 to notch 4.0's during both semesters. OU recorded a team GPA of 3.25 for the year, up from last season's 3.20.

WISE AND COMPANY NAMED TO USAG HALL OF FAME

University of Oklahoma gymnast Hollie Vise was named to the 2008 class of inductees for the USA Gymnastics Hall of Fame as part of the 2003 U.S. Women's World Championships Team, in a ceremony on June 22nd in Philadelphia, Pa., in conjunction with the U.S. Olympic Trials.

The 2003 World Champion on bars, Vise was a member of the '03 squad that claimed the USA's first world team title.

An International Elite gymnast since the age of 11, Vise was a two-time National Champion on bars and balance beam and won a silver medal in the all-around at the same competition on three occasions.

A member of the U.S. National Team for six years, the Dallas, Texas, native won two bronze medals at the 2001 Goodwill Games in Australia.

A LOOK BACK AT LAST YEAR

Last season proved to be a storybook year for OU women's gymnastics as the team cemented itself as one of the program's all-time best. Etching its name in the record books on multiple occasions, the Sooners clinched their first Big 12 title since 2004 in dramatic come-from-behind fashion and placed eighth at the NCAA Championships - tying the '07 squad for the best finish in program history at the season-ending event. OU made its fifth-straight NCAA Championships appearance, adding to its program-record streak. Prior to the current five consecutive showings, the Sooners hadn't been in the field in back-to-back seasons in the 27-year history of the program.

The Sooners claimed a conference-leading nine spots on the 2008 Gymnastics All-Big 12 Team. The Big 12 Conference awarded the top four Big 12 gymnasts with the highest regional qualifying score (RQS) in each event, excluding the all-around. Leading the way for OU was Kiara Redmond who earned a spot on vault, uneven bars, beam and floor exercise. The Los Angeles, Calif., native was the only Big 12 gymnast to garner four accolades.

Vise was also a multiple winner, clinching a spot on both uneven bars and beam. Leading the Big 12 on beam (9.895), DeProspero was named to the beam team while Jackie Flanery and Ashley Jackson were honored for their efforts on floor.

VAULT

While Oklahoma led the NCAA South Central Region last season with a vault regional qualifying score (RQS) of 49.180, Kindler and the Sooners expect that average to rise in 2009. Depth will prove the biggest factor for improved scores on the apparatus this season as OU lost only one vaulter to graduation (Kiara Redmond). The combination of several veteran vaulters and a talented crop of newcomers pushes the Sooner tally to a minimum of 12 vaulters competing with a 10.0 start value.

The boost in numbers gives the staff an opportunity to choose the most dynamic vaults for scoring and consistency purposes, allowing Kindler the ability to test fresh faces on the apparatus as well as challenge potential all-arounders to earn their starting spot.

Top returners on vault include Ashley Jackson, Haley DeProspero, Jessica Kinder, Jackie Flanery, and Mary Mantle, while the group of newcomers includes Sara Stone. Other veterans on the scene include Melanie Root and Kristin Smith, who are both competing yurchenko fulls. Root saw action on vault in five meets last season and is looking for a more consistent position in the lineup this spring. Hailey Wagner, Julie Kramer and Natalie Ratcliff have shown great improvements in the gym and will have the opportunity to contribute when called upon. Kramer, a transfer from Baylor University, was a power tumbler and trampolinist and has made the transition to collegiate gymnastics.

“Our goals on vault are to improve both our scoring potential and ‘sticking’ of our vaults,” said Kindler. “We expect our ranking to rise on this event due to a combination of increased potential and added depth over last season.”

BARS

New faces will be seen on this event after the graduation of three strong contributors last season. The Sooners will need to replace Caitlin Hinkis, Stephanie LoPiccolo and Kiara Redmond, who all completed their eligibility in 2008.

Root has redesigned her routine to highlight a sky-high tkatchev and a textbook double-front dismount.

Ferguson, a surprise on this event, has learned numerous skills (jaeger and full-in dismount) and combinations (giant full to overshoot handstand) and has solidified her position in the lineup.

“Our goal on bars is simple...hit, hit, hit,” said Kindler. “In preseason workouts, we saw a huge increase in our hit percentage. The athletes are also performing more difficult dismounts which was one of our training goals.”

BEAM

Coach Kindler preached consistency on beam heading into the offseason and the veterans listened, as the group proved to be very seasoned on this event throughout the training period.

Last season, Haley DeProspero sealed a “perfect” record on balance beam, sticking 14-of-14 routines. Teammate Hollie Vise was not far behind, missing just one routine the entire season.

Jessica Kinder also proved to be a key member of the Sooner beam lineup last year, stepping in to replace the injured Ashley Jackson at Missouri and hitting every routine the remainder of the season.

Expect freshmen Megan Ferguson to be slotted in as an immediate contributor in 2009. Ferguson, crowned the Junior Olympic National Champion on beam in 2006 and 2007, will truly mesmerize with her unique routine and difficult tumbling.

Jackson has increased her difficulty and ends her routine with an impressive double tuck salto while Smith added a three-part flight series to her routine, while continuing to make an impact with her exceptional dance.

Depth will also be provided by returnees Candace Cindell, Jackie Flanery, Natalie Ratcliff, Melanie Root, and freshman Sara Stone.

“I felt that last season a slight misstep here and there kept us from being a really good beam squad,” said Kindler. “During our training, we have preached a high hitting percentage while working on increased difficulty in our routines.”

FLOOR

One of the strongest events for the Sooners a year ago, floor exercise appears to be another key asset for Oklahoma in 2009 after losing only Kiara Redmond to graduation from last season’s lineup.

Returning crowd favorites include senior Ashley Jackson and junior Jackie Flanery, who will once again thrill the crowd with their showboating choreography and quick and powerful tumbling. Flanery, ranked second among all returning Big 12 gymnasts on the apparatus with a season RQS of 9.875, has upgraded her passes from last season in search of a Big 12 title on this event.

Other returners include Jessica Kinder, Haley DeProspero and Kristin Smith. All three are expected to be staples in the lineup for OU.

Smith, noted for her long lines and unique dancing abilities, will be solid, while DeProspero and Kinder plan to end their routines with double salto dismounts - tucked and piked, respectively, which will set them apart from the competition.

“We have worked tirelessly on increasing our skill level on this event over the training period,” said Kindler. “Heading into the season, we feel as though we can be a top-five team in the country on floor.”

SEASON EVENT OUTLOOK

K.J. KINDLER

HEAD COACH | THIRD SEASON
2008 BIG 12 COACH OF THE YEAR

Just two seasons in at the reins of the Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad, 2008 Big 12 Coach of the Year K.J. Kindler has already stamped an indelible mark on the Sooner program. For the second straight year, Kindler guided OU to its highest ever finish, posting the most wins in program history and recording the best winning percentage of any Sooner squad along the way.

Named head coach of the Sooners in the summer of 2006, Kindler has quickly positioned the OU squad among the nation's elite, as the Sooners have finished eighth at the NCAA Championships the last two years.

Last season proved to be a storybook year for the Sooners under Kindler, as OU won its first 21 meetings of the season (the only squad in the country to win all of its regular season contests) en route to the program's first Big 12 title since 2004.

Under the direction of Kindler, OU made its fifth straight NCAA Championships appearance in 2008, adding to its program-record streak. Prior to the current five consecutive showings, the Sooners hadn't been in the field in back-to-back seasons in the 27-year history of the program.

Kindler's last four collegiate squads have qualified for the NCAA Championships, while every squad of her head coaching tenure has advanced to NCAA regional competition.

Oklahoma gymnasts have flourished under the 2005 National Association of Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches/Women (NACGCW) Coach of the Year, as Oklahoma produced a conference-leading nine spots on the 2008 regular season All-Big 12 Team.

OU recorded only two scores lower than 9.8 in the final three events of the '08 conference championship as the Sooners clinched at least a share of all four individual event titles - marking just the third time in Big 12 history that a school clinched at least a share of all four apparatus wins.

Hollie Vise and Haley DeProspero won titles on bars and beam, respectively, as the pair both recorded scores of 9.9 in their event wins. Kiara Redmond won the other two titles, taking home the vault win with her 9.95 and the floor exercise title after a score of 9.9.

Following OU's come-from-behind heroics in the conference championship, Kindler was named Big 12 Coach of the Year for a fourth time, while Redmond garnered Big 12 Gymnast of the Year honors.

The Sooners have produced at least one All-American in each season under Kindler's tutelage, as Redmond capped off her illustrious career with four additional All-America honors in 2008, moving her career total to nine - the highest tally of any gymnast in program history.

Kindler serves as the primary coach for the balance beam and also choreographs the beam and floor exercise routines. The Sooners ended the 2008 season with an regional qualifying score (RQS) of 49.195 on beam, tops in the Big 12 and sixth best in the NCAA. OU had three of the top four individual RQS in the conference on the apparatus, including DeProspero's Big 12-leading RQS of 9.9, which ranked fifth in the country. Oklahoma gymnasts took home 12 individual event titles on beam in 2008, led by DeProspero's nine event wins.

Always emphasizing academics, Kindler's squads have regularly placed its gymnasts on the Big 12 All-Academic teams and the NACGC All-Academic squads.

For the second consecutive season, five members of the Oklahoma women's gymnastics team earned NACGC All-Academic honors, led by Caitlin Hinkis and Jessica Kinder, both of whom posted perfect 4.0 GPAs.

- ▼ Kindler and husband, Lou Ball, welcomed the birth of their second daughter, Adelaide, in September of 2008. She joins sister Maggie Grace (2) in the Ball family, who reside in Norman.

The pair were the only gymnasts in the Big 12 to notch 4.0 GPAs during both semesters. Six OU gymnasts were named to the 2008 Academic All-Big 12 Gymnastics Team, including four first-team members.

Prior to her hiring at OU, Kindler spent six seasons as the head coach at Iowa State.

“We are dedicated to filling our staff with the best and brightest minds in coaching,” said OU Athletics Director Joe Castiglione, upon Kindler’s hiring. “K.J. Kindler brings a reputation of great achievement in all aspects of leading a program.”

“She impressed us not only with her accomplishment to this point, but with her lofty goals for the future and her plan for reaching those goals. We are thrilled to work with K.J. and her staff as we pursue championships.”

Kindler’s 2006 season culminated with Iowa State’s third trip to the NCAA National Championships and its first appearance among the Super Six (teams that qualify from the preliminaries to compete for the national title).

The 24-10 Cyclones produced three All-Americans for a second consecutive season, while posting an undefeated mark at home, a 10-1 dual record and an 8-1 standard in duals against ranked opponents. The team also snapped Nebraska’s 60-meet home winning streak.

The 2006 squad won its first Big 12 Championship since 2000, and three Cyclone gymnasts earned either an outright or a share of individual titles at the meet.

Since she took over head coaching duties at ISU in 2001, Kindler coached eight regional event champions, 11 NCAA individual championship qualifiers and 18 Big 12 champions (three all-arounders).

As an ISU gymnast, she was a three-time MVP for the Cyclones and runner-up in the all-around at the 1992 Big Eight Conference Championship. She was the school’s first individual NCAA Regional qualifier, competing three times in the postseason meet.

Kindler hails from Lake Elmo, Minn., and trained under Mary Jane Olsen at Hamline University in St. Paul. In high school, she moved to Connecticut and trained under Frank and Laurie DeFrancesco at Arena Academy in Stamford and Walter Hawkes at Wilton High School. In Connecticut, she won many conference and state titles.

The eldest of five siblings, Kindler hails from a gymnastics family. One sister, Lori, competed at the University of Minnesota. She and her husband own and operate Flips Gymnastics in the Twin Cities area. Kindler’s nieces, Emma and Lucy Kindler, enjoy recreational gymnastics.

Kindler is married to OU assistant coach Lou Ball. The couple has two daughters, Maggie (2), and Adelaide born in September of 2008.
