NO. 10 OU CLOSING ITS REGULAR SEASON BIG 12 SLATE ON THE ROAD AT ISU

The 10th-ranked Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad makes its first of two season trips to Ames, Iowa, on Friday, Feb. 27, closing its regular season conference slate against No. 22 Iowa State. The Sooners and Cyclones dual meet starts at 7 p.m. (CT) inside Hilton Coliseum.

OU (6-3, 1-1) leads the Big 12 in team average, while tallying the highest season average on all four events as well. The Sooners are the only conference squad nationally ranked in the top-12 on all four events, standing No. 8 on vault with a qualifying score of 49.115, 12th on bars (48.950), fifth on beam (49.085) and ninth on floor (49.090).

The Sooners are coming off of a thrilling quad meet victory over Big 12 foe Missouri, West Virginia and Brown in which Oklahoma won three of the four event titles en route to the win.

The Sooners carry a 38-14-1 all-time series advantage over the Cyclones, but the series has been tightly contested in recent memory. OU needed a 9.95 from Kiara Redmond on vault (OU's final routine of the night) to push the Sooners past the Cyclones at the 2008 Big 12 Championship title. The two also met at the 2007 NCAA Central Regional Championships, where Oklahoma advanced on a tiebreaker after the respective squads had both tallied a team score of 195.925.

OU defeated the Cyclones 196.375-193.675 in Norman on Feb. 15, 2008, in the other recent meeting.

OPPONENT PREVIEW

Iowa State enters the Oklahoma meet off of its first win of the season, a 194.600-191.475 home triumph over Minnesota on Beauty and the Beast night in front of 7,224 fans in Hilton Coliseum -- more than double the previous all-time Cyclone attendance high.

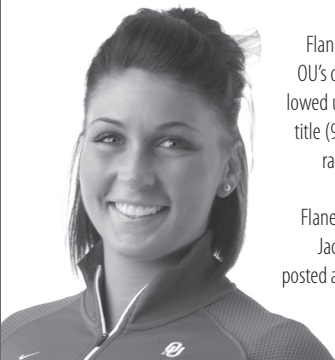

ISU capped the win with a season-high a 49.225 on floor -- the highest tally on any apparatus this season for the Cyclones.

Senior Ceilia Maccani led ISU to the victory, scoring a career-high 9.925 on bars and a 9.8 on vault.

2008 Big 12 Champs

Jackie Flanery

Flanery posted a career-high-tying 9.85 in OU's quad meet vault win (49.250) and followed up the routine with a share of the floor title (9.875), as Oklahoma defeated a pair of ranked squads in the quad meet victory.

Flanery's floor score tied teammates Ashley Jackson and Kristin Smith as the Sooners posted an event-winning 49.300 on the event en route to the narrow victory.

PRACTICE POLICY

Practices are held at the Sam Viersen Center, directly north and across the street (Imhoff) from the Lloyd Noble Center. Practices are typically open to media. However, those who wish to attend must obtain clearance through Phillip Rogers in the Media Relations Office prior to the start of practice. Practice generally runs from 10:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. The best time to conduct interviews is immediately following practice.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Media credentials for home contests at the Lloyd Noble Center should be requested no later than one day prior to the event. All requests should be directed to Phillip Rogers in the Media Relations Office at (405) 325-8413 or by e-mail to philliprogers@ou.edu.

POST-MEET INFORMATION

Post-meet interviews will take place on the main floor of the Lloyd Noble Center after head coach K.J. Kindler dismisses her athletes. Official score sheets will be available at the scorer's table.

MEDIA INTERVIEWS

Non-postmeet interview requests for athletes and coaches must be arranged through Phillip Rogers in the Media Relations Office. All requests should be submitted at least one day in advance of the desired interview time.

WEEKEND ACTION IN THE BIG 12

Friday, Feb. 27:
 Iowa State vs. Oklahoma (7 PM)
 Missouri vs. Michigan State, Western Michigan, Cal State Fullerton (6:30 PM)
 Saturday, Feb. 28:
 Nebraska at Michigan (5 PM)

DOMINATING THE BIG 12

The Sooners have reeled off an 12-2 record versus Big 12 opponents since the start of the 2007 schedule, including a 7-1 mark during regular season action.

Prior to OU's loss at Nebraska earlier this season, its last regular season defeat to a conference opponent was Feb. 10, 2006, against Iowa State - then coached by K.J. Kindler.

REGULAR SEASON SENSATIONS

Oklahoma has won 37 of its last 41 regular-season matchups dating back to Jan. 19, 2007.

STILL NEAR THE TOP

OU's team tally of 197.175 at TWU on Jan. 17 shares the fourth-best mark in the NCAA this season. Only Utah, Georgia and LSU (all Super Six squads from a year ago) have topped the mark.

HOW THE TEAMS STACK UP

The Sooners lead the conference on all four events, while Iowa State enters the meet ranked third on bars and fourth on the other three apparatuses.

Should the meet come down to the final event, OU stands fifth in the country with a beam RQS of 49.085, while the Cyclones have posted a team RQS average of 48.665 (30th) on floor this year.

NOT ACTING LIKE NEWCOMERS

Of the 50 routines that have been competed by gymnasts making their first collegiate appearance on the respective apparatus in 2009, a remarkable 28 (.560) have gone for a 9.8 or better. The respective group hit four of eight routines at that mark in OU's quad-meet win, including at least one on each apparatus.

THREE'S COMPANY

Needing to post a solid score to hold off a charging Missouri squad that was hitting its vaults, OU's Kristin Smith, Jackie Flanery and Ashley Jackson posted back-to-back-to-back event-winning routines of 9.875 on floor as the Sooners closed with a 49.300 on the apparatus for the quad meet victory.

It marked the third time this season that three Sooners had clinched a share of an individual event title (beam - TWU, floor - Minnesota).

STICKING TO THE PLAN

Senior all-arounder Ashley Jackson posted her second 9.9-or greater vault in three meets in OU's victory on Feb. 20. Jackson's 9.9 was second to Missouri's Alex Gold, while Jackson won the vault title at Nebraska (9.925) en route to the all-around title against the Huskers.

ROAD SWEET ROAD

Posting a then-NCAA-best 197.175 in Denton, Texas, on Jan. 17, it appears that the road could be kind to the Sooners again this season. Five of OU's top seven scores (including three of the top four and a season-best-tying 196.750 at Arkansas) came outside of Norman a year ago.

THREE'S A CHARM

Oklahoma won three of the four event titles in their quad meet win on Feb. 20 over Missouri, Brown and West Virginia, taking home every apparatus honor except for bars. It marked the third occasion this season that OU has won at least a share of three event titles in a single meet, a feat the Sooners also accomplished against TWU (four-for-four) and Minnesota (vault, bars, floor).

RACKING UP THE VAULT TITLES

Sometimes overshadowed by fellow freshman Megan Ferguson's strong start to the year, Sara Stone won a share of her fourth vault title of the young season at Denver with a 9.85. The Dallas, Texas, native stands third in the Big 12 on the apparatus with teammate Ashley Jackson.

PROTECTING THE HOUSE

The Sooners are 17-1 in their last 18 regular season home meets. Before Oklahoma's loss to Arkansas earlier this season, its last home defeat before the postseason came at the hands of an Iowa State team that was coached by K.J. Kindler - OU's current head coach.

ANOTHER STRONG YEAR FOR VISE

Hollie Vise won her third-straight bars title with a 9.875 against Minnesota on Jan. 30, and also picked up the event win on the apparatus at Denver (9.9). Also earning a share of the win on beam against TWU and the apparatus title in OU's quad meet, Vise has tallied six event wins during 2009 action. The Dallas, Texas, native is well ahead of her pace last season, when she claimed seven titles on the year (four on bars, three on beam).

SMITH AND FLANERY BOTH WIN TWO

A TRUE TEAM EFFORT

Oklahoma is one of only three squads ranked in the latest top-15 to not have an all-arounder in the top-25 RQS all-around rankings (Stanford and UCLA are the others).

FRESHMEN PHENOMS

OU's Megan Ferguson and Sara Stone have either led the Sooners outright or tied for the team event high on seven occasions already this season. Ferguson paced the Sooners on bars against Florida (9.85), tied for the beam crown against TWU (9.925), shared top beam honors for the Sooners against Minnesota (9.875) and led the Sooners on bars (9.85) in the quad meet, while Stone's 9.85 on vault at Denver shared the event title. Stone also posted a team-high 9.875 against Arkansas, a week after sharing vault honors with Ashley Jackson at TWU.

ASHLEY JACKSON SNAGS WEEKLY HONOR

University of Oklahoma senior all-arounder Ashley Jackson was named Big 12 Gymnast of the Week by the conference office on Feb. 10. It's the first conference honor of the season for the Hudsonville, Mich., native who posted career highs on vault (9.925) and the all-around (39.375), capturing the two titles at No. 12 Nebraska on Feb. 8.

The weekly conference honor is the second of Jackson's career, as she was also named Big 12 Gymnast of the Week the first week of February a year ago. The honor comes a week after fellow Oklahoma gymnast Melanie Root was named co-Big 12 Event Specialist of the Week.

KINDER STEPS UP

The fifth-year senior entered the year without a collegiate event title to her credit, but has already snagged a pair of titles on the young year. Kinder's latest event crown came on bars against Nebraska, after a career-high 9.85. The feat is even more remarkable considering Kinder hadn't event competed on bars until this season. The Kansas City, Mo., native also posted a career-high 9.9 on floor against Minnesota for her first collegiate victory.

ROOT GARNERS FIRST CONFERENCE HONOR

University of Oklahoma gymnast Melanie Root was named co-Big 12 Event Specialist of the Week by the conference office on Feb. 3. It's the first conference honor for the Cartersville, Ga., native who tied career highs on vault (9.875) and bars (9.825) against No. 21 Minnesota en route to her first collegiate event title (vault). Root shared the Big 12 accolade with Iowa State's Ceilia Maccani, who scored a career-best 9.85 on beam and a 9.75 on vault in the Cyclone's loss to Michigan.

CAREER HIGHS FOR A PAIR

Along with Melanie Root's career-high 9.875 on vault, Jessica Kinder posted a personal-best 9.8 on bars against the Golden Gophers. Kinder, a fifth-year senior in the Oklahoma program, just started competing on bars in 2009. The Kansas City, Mo., native has posted scores of 9.7 or better all three times on the apparatus.

NATALIE'S NIGHT

While many Sooners had trouble on beam against the Razorbacks, the same cannot be said of Natalie Ratcliff. The sophomore posted a 9.825 on the apparatus in just her second collegiate beam routine - a week after posting a 9.875 on the event in her beam debut at TWU. Ratcliff also posted a career-high 9.825 on vault for the Sooners against Arkansas.

BUST OUT THE BROOMS

OU swept all individual and event titles against TWU, marking the first time this season that it had won every crown of the dual meet. The Sooners swept all four team event titles seven times a year ago.

CAREER BESTS APLENTY

Nine Oklahoma gymnasts either set or tied a total of 12 then-personal bests against TWU on Jan. 17. Below is a run-down from OU's spectacular night:

Haley DeProspero (1): Beam - 9.925 | Megan Ferguson (3): Bars - 9.85, Beam - 9.925*, Floor - 9.775*

Jackie Flanery (1): Floor - 9.9 | Ashley Jackson (1): Floor - 9.95* | Natalie Ratcliff (1): Beam - 9.875*

NATASHA KELLEY TO REDSHIRT

OU freshman Natasha Kelley will redshirt the 2009 season after an achilles injury sustained during the fall training period. The Katy, Texas, native is Oklahoma's most heralded recruit since NCAA Champion Kelly Garrison after spending 2004-2008 as a member of the US Elite National Team. The '05 USA Elite Junior National champion (all-around, beam, floor) was also the silver medalist at the 2006 World Championships and '07 American Cup.

MEET THE NEWCOMERS

OU gymnastics fans also will have their first chance to see OU's freshman class of Megan Ferguson, Natasha Kelley, Sara Stone and Hailey Wagner in collegiate action at the Lloyd Noble Center in 2009. While Kelley is redshirting the year after an injury during the fall, Ferguson and Stone are inked into the tentative starting lineup against Minnesota. Baylor transfer Julie Kramer also joined the Sooners over the summer and will provide depth to the vault lineup. OU's 2008-09 recruiting class of Ferguson, Kelley, Stone and Wagner was the sixth-best group in the country, according to a CollegeGymFans.com Top-10 Women's Recruiting Classes poll. The Sooners ranked behind No. 1 UCLA and '08 NCAA Championships Super Six squads Georgia (second), Alabama (third), Florida (fourth) and Stanford (fifth). Oklahoma was the only squad from the Big 12 Conference and South Central Region named to the list.

THE EXPERIENCE FACTOR

The Sooners welcome back 18 routines from last season's 2008 NCAA Championships. Below is an event-by-event breakdown of returners for the 2009 year that competed in Athens, Ga.

Vault (5): Flanery, Kinder, Jackson, DeProspero, Mantle

Bars (4): Mantle, Jackson, DeProspero, Vise

Beam (4): Kinder, Jackson, Vise, DeProspero

Floor (5): Smith, Kinder, DeProspero, Jackson, Flanery

BOWLING INTO THE NEW YEAR

Although the gymnastics schedule was set months before the bowl lineups were announced, the OU gymnastics squad opened up its season slate with Oklahoma's football bowl opponent for the second straight year. The Sooners squared off with the Gator gymnastics squad on Jan. 9, less than 24 hours after meeting Florida in the BCS National Championship game. Oklahoma and West Virginia met in the second session of the Cancun Classic in their season opener a year ago, a day after OU's football squad faced the Mountaineers in the Fiesta Bowl.

OKLAHOMA INKS THREE TO 2009 CLASS

Head Coach K.J. Kindler and the Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad announced the signing of three gymnasts to National Letters of Intent on Nov. 12, the first day of the early signing period. Oklahoma native Bethany Neubauer (Edmond, Okla.), Kayla Nowak (Algonquin, Ill.) and Brie Olson (St. Cloud, Minn.) will join the Sooners next fall.

QUAD MEET RECAP

The 11th-ranked Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad (6-3) won event titles on vault (49.250), beam (49.075) and floor (49.300) en route to a team tally of 196.375 in a victory over No. 13 Missouri, No. 18 West Virginia and No. 45 Brown at the Lloyd Noble Center on Friday night.

The Sooners led all the way in front of a hometown crowd of 1,261, outpacing second-place Mizzou (196.225), WVU (195.250) and Brown (185.950) in OU's Flip for a Cause quad meet, promoting Heart Health Awareness and the Go Red for Women campaign.

"I thought we started really well on vault, but have to get much better on our landings across the board on all events," said OU head coach K.J. Kindler. "Aside from all the technical jargon, it comes down to sticking landings and we aren't doing that consistently enough and as a result, are giving up precious tenths here and there."

"At the same time, I was very proud of the way we ended on floor," added Kindler. "Closing the meet with three-straight 9.875s, when we knew we were in a dogfight, shows a lot about the character of this team."

DENVER RECAP

The No. 8 OU women's gymnastics squad swept all four individual event titles (three outright), while snagging three team event honors, en route to a 196.025-194.825 victory at 22nd-ranked Denver on Saturday night in front 1,337 fans inside Hamilton Gymnasium. Kristin Smith won the beam title (9.9), while sharing top honors on floor (9.85) with teammate Jackie Flanery and Denver's Amanda Johanson. Flanery made sure Smith wasn't the only one to walk away with a pair of honors for the Sooners (3-3), sharing the vault title with freshman Sara Stone (9.85). Hollie Vise capped off the Sooner sweep with the bars title after a career-best-tying 9.9.

"I thought we were kind of in survival mode all night," said OU head coach K.J. Kindler. "We had some perform their best routines of the season, while some had a few of their weakest and in the end it balanced out to a 196. We definitely had a few bright spots, while the errors we did make are easily correctable and changing those can get us from a hot-and-cold night to the next level."

NEBRASKA RECAP

The seventh-ranked Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad dropped a 196.175-196.000 decision at No. 12 Nebraska on Sunday afternoon in Lincoln, Neb. The Sooners put a scare in the hometown crowd at the Bob Devaney Center, posting a 49.325 on beam in their final event to narrow the gap, but it wasn't quite enough as OU dropped to 2-3 on the year.

Oklahoma picked up event wins on vault and beam, while also notching individual titles on vault (Ashley Jackson - 9.925) and bars (Jessica Kinder - 9.85). Jackson and Haley DeProspero finished one-two in the all-around with scores of 39.375 and 39.150, respectively.

OU had won its last seven regular season meetings against Big 12 opponents before today's defeat, dating back to a 196.100-196.00 victory at Missouri on Feb. 17, 2006. Oklahoma's last previous loss to a conference opponent during the regular season was at the hands of a K.J. Kindler-led Iowa State squad on Feb. 10, 2006, by a score of 196.275-196.050.

MINNESOTA RECAP

The No. 7 Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad defeated 21st-ranked Minnesota 196.500-195.675 on Jan. 30, in front of 1,540 fans at the Lloyd Noble Center in OU's "Beauty and the Beast" spectacular. The Sooners shared the floor with the Oklahoma wrestling squad, who rolled over N.C. State by a final score of 38-6.

OU won three events on the night, as Oklahoma gymnasts also took home individual titles on vault (Melanie Root - 9.875), bars (Hollie Vise - 9.875) and floor (Jackie Flanery, Haley DeProspero and Ashley Jackson - 9.85 for all three).

"We were much more consistent with our landings throughout the night and beam was much better for the most part than our last time out," said OU head coach K.J. Kindler. "I thought we also brought a lot more energy into the event and sustained that throughout the night. It was a great atmosphere, with support from both the wrestling and gymnastics fans, as the event was a big success for both Oklahoma squads."

OU burst out of the gates with a season-high 49.200 on vault as the final five Oklahoma gymnasts posted scores of 9.8 or greater.

ARKANSAS RECAP

The seventh-ranked Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad (1-2) dropped a 195.625-196.900 decision in its home opener to No. 8 Arkansas (4-1) at the Lloyd Noble Center on Monday night. The Sooners were in it through two rotations, but beam proved the difference maker as the Sooners scored a 48.325 on the apparatus, while the Razorbacks posted a 49.275 en route to a program-best team tally.

It was OU's first regular season dual loss in Norman since Feb. 10, 2006, against Iowa State - a span of 12 consecutive match ups. The defeat was the first to the Razorbacks in program history, as the Sooners entered tonight's dual meet with a 4-0 record against Arkansas - including two wins in 2008.

"We were right in it until we went to beam," said OU head coach K.J. Kindler. "Unfortunately, beam was a polar opposite from our last time out against TWU. We counted far too many wobbles and it ended up being the difference tonight. Give credit to Arkansas, they performed very well tonight."

TWU RECAP

The ninth-ranked Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad (1-1) posted the highest score in the NCAA this season en route to a 197.175-189.600 victory against Texas Woman's University (0-1) on Jan. 17. The Sooners claimed every team and individual event title of the dual meet in front of a capacity crowd of 1,107 inside Kitty Magee Arena on the TWU campus.

Posting their best team score since Jan. 24, 2004 (197.300), the Sooners claimed the highest score in the NCAA in 2009. Entering the competition with the top score in the NCAA was Georgia (winner of the last four national titles) with a mark of 196.85.

With the victory, Oklahoma has won 32 of its last 34 regular-season matchups dating back to Jan. 19, 2007.

"It's a real confidence builder as we continue our season," said head coach K.J. Kindler. "In all honesty, I saw ten times as much energy, confidence and enthusiasm as we showed at Florida. It started out with a bang with a great bars set. I thought we did a much better job with our dismounts and stuck landings and it's always nice to end with one of those beam nights that you'll never forget."

Oklahoma was without the services of Haley DeProspero on vault and floor and senior all-arounder Jessica Kinder on all four events, yet still posted all four event scores of 49.125 or better.

FLORIDA RECAP

The No. 10 University of Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad dropped a season-opening dual meet to the third-ranked Florida Gators by a score of 196.500-195.075 in front of a Stephen O'Connell Center crowd of 4,856 in Gainesville, Fla., on Jan. 9.

"I thought we came out a little flat overall," said head coach K.J. Kindler. "In front of a great Florida crowd, I was very proud of some of our newcomers including our bars lineup which included three girls making their career debuts and all hit. We had some uncharacteristic falls from some of our veterans including Hollie Vise and Jackie Flanery, but I'm sure we can learn from this experience and improve as the season progresses."

"We also had a couple of late fill-in's including Sara Stone on floor for Haley (DeProspero), who I thought performed well considering the last-second switch. Also, Jessica Kinder went four-for-four in her first all-around performance and must be commended."

As a whole, Oklahoma couldn't match its regular-season success against squads from the Southeastern Conference from a year ago, when the Sooners posted season highs in wins against both SEC squad's they faced before the postseason (196.75 against Auburn - March 7 and Arkansas - March 15).

OU senior Ashley Jackson finished third in the all-around (39.125), behind Florida All-American's Melanie Sinclair (39.425) and Corey Hartung (39.375).

Other Sooner bright spots included runner-up finishes on three of the four events - (Jackson - 9.825 on vault, Megan Ferguson - 9.85 on bars and Haley DeProspero - 9.875 on beam).

VAULT

While Oklahoma led the NCAA South Central Region last season with a vault regional qualifying score (RQS) of 49.180, Kindler and the Sooners expect that average to rise in 2009. Depth will prove the biggest factor for improved scores on the apparatus this season as OU lost only one vaulter to graduation (Kiara Redmond). The combination of several veteran vaulters and a talented crop of newcomers pushes the Sooner tally to a minimum of 12 vaulters competing with a 10.0 start value.

The boost in numbers gives the staff an opportunity to choose the most dynamic vaults for scoring and consistency purposes, allowing Kindler the ability to test fresh faces on the apparatus as well as challenge potential all-arounders to earn their starting spot.

Top returners on vault include Ashley Jackson, Haley DeProspero, Jessica Kinder, Jackie Flanery, and Mary Mantle, while the group of newcomers includes Sara Stone. Other veterans on the scene include Melanie Root and Kristin Smith, who are both competing yurchenko fulls. Root saw action on vault in five meets last season and is looking for a more consistent position in the lineup this spring. Hailey Wagner, Julie Kramer and Natalie Ratcliff have shown great improvements in the gym and will have the opportunity to contribute when called upon. Kramer, a transfer from Baylor University, was a power tumbler and trampolinist and has made the transition to collegiate gymnastics.

“Our goals on vault are to improve both our scoring potential and ‘sticking’ of our vaults,” said Kindler. “We expect our ranking to rise on this event due to a combination of increased potential and added depth over last season.”

BARS

New faces will be seen on this event after the graduation of three strong contributors last season. The Sooners will need to replace Caitlin Hinkis, Stephanie LoPiccolo and Kiara Redmond, who all completed their eligibility in 2008.

Root has redesigned her routine to highlight a sky-high tkatchev and a textbook double-front dismount.

Ferguson, a surprise on this event, has learned numerous skills (jaeger and full-in dismount) and combinations (giant full to overshoot handstand) and has solidified her position in the lineup.

“Our goal on bars is simple...hit, hit, hit,” said Kindler. “In preseason workouts, we saw a huge increase in our hit percentage. The athletes are also performing more difficult dismounts which was one of our training goals.”

BEAM

Coach Kindler preached consistency on beam heading into the offseason and the veterans listened, as the group proved to be very seasoned on this event throughout the training period.

Last season, Haley DeProspero sealed a “perfect” record on balance beam, sticking 14-of-14 routines. Teammate Hollie Vise was not far behind, missing just one routine the entire season.

Jessica Kinder also proved to be a key member of the Sooner beam lineup last year, stepping in to replace the injured Ashley Jackson at Missouri and hitting every routine the remainder of the season.

Expect freshmen Megan Ferguson to be slotted in as an immediate contributor in 2009. Ferguson, crowned the Junior Olympic National Champion on beam in 2006 and 2007, will truly mesmerize with her unique routine and difficult tumbling.

Jackson has increased her difficulty and ends her routine with an impressive double tuck salto while Smith added a three-part flight series to her routine, while continuing to make an impact with her exceptional dance.

Depth will also be provided by returnees Candace Cindell, Jackie Flanery, Natalie Ratcliff, Melanie Root, and freshman Sara Stone.

“I felt that last season a slight misstep here and there kept us from being a really good beam squad,” said Kindler. “During our training, we have preached a high hitting percentage while working on increased difficulty in our routines.”

FLOOR

One of the strongest events for the Sooners a year ago, floor exercise appears to be another key asset for Oklahoma in 2009 after losing only Kiara Redmond to graduation from last season’s lineup.

Returning crowd favorites include senior Ashley Jackson and junior Jackie Flanery, who will once again thrill the crowd with their showboating choreography and quick and powerful tumbling. Flanery, ranked second among all returning Big 12 gymnasts on the apparatus with a season RQS of 9.875, has upgraded her passes from last season in search of a Big 12 title on this event.

Other returners include Jessica Kinder, Haley DeProspero and Kristin Smith. All three are expected to be staples in the lineup for OU.

Smith, noted for her long lines and unique dancing abilities, will be solid, while DeProspero and Kinder plan to end their routines with double salto dismounts - tucked and piked, respectively, which will set them apart from the competition.

Other contributors will include Sara Stone, Megan Ferguson, Mary Mantle and Melanie Root.

“We have worked tirelessly on increasing our skill level on this event over the training period,” said Kindler. “Heading into the season, we feel as though we can be a top-five team in the country on floor.”

SEASON EVENT OUTLOOK

K.J. KINDLER

HEAD COACH | THIRD SEASON
2008 BIG 12 COACH OF THE YEAR

Just two seasons in at the reins of the Oklahoma women's gymnastics squad, 2008 Big 12 Coach of the Year K.J. Kindler has already stamped an indelible mark on the Sooner program. For the second straight year, Kindler guided OU to its highest ever finish, posting the most wins in program history and recording the best winning percentage of any Sooner squad along the way.

Named head coach of the Sooners in the summer of 2006, Kindler has quickly positioned the OU squad among the nation's elite, as the Sooners have finished eighth at the NCAA Championships the last two years.

Last season proved to be a storybook year for the Sooners under Kindler, as OU won its first 21 meetings of the season (the only squad in the country to win all of its regular season contests) en route to the program's first Big 12 title since 2004.

Under the direction of Kindler, OU made its fifth straight NCAA Championships appearance in 2008, adding to its program-record streak. Prior to the current five consecutive showings, the Sooners hadn't been in the field in back-to-back seasons in the 27-year history of the program.

Kindler's last four collegiate squads have qualified for the NCAA Championships, while every squad of her head coaching tenure has advanced to NCAA regional competition.

Oklahoma gymnasts have flourished under the 2005 National Association of Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches/Women (NACGCW) Coach of the Year, as Oklahoma produced a conference-leading nine spots on the 2008 regular season All-Big 12 Team.

OU recorded only two scores lower than 9.8 in the final three events of the '08 conference championship as the Sooners clinched at least a share of all four individual event titles - marking just the third time in Big 12 history that a school clinched at least a share of all four apparatus wins.

Hollie Vise and Haley DeProspero won titles on bars and beam, respectively, as the pair both recorded scores of 9.9 in their event wins. Kiara Redmond won the other two titles, taking home the vault win with her 9.95 and the floor exercise title after a score of 9.9.

Following OU's come-from-behind heroics in the conference championship, Kindler was named Big 12 Coach of the Year for a fourth time, while Redmond garnered Big 12 Gymnast of the Year honors.

The Sooners have produced at least one All-American in each season under Kindler's tutelage, as Redmond capped off her illustrious career with four additional All-America honors in 2008, moving her career total to nine - the highest tally of any gymnast in program history.

Kindler serves as the primary coach for the balance beam and also choreographs the beam and floor exercise routines. The Sooners ended the 2008 season with an regional qualifying score (RQS) of 49.195 on beam, tops in the Big 12 and sixth best in the NCAA. OU had three of the top four individual RQS in the conference on the apparatus, including DeProspero's Big 12-leading RQS of 9.9, which ranked fifth in the country. Oklahoma gymnasts took home 12 individual event titles on beam in 2008, led by DeProspero's nine event wins.

Always emphasizing academics, Kindler's squads have regularly placed its gymnasts on the Big 12 All-Academic teams and the NACGC All-Academic squads.

For the second consecutive season, five members of the Oklahoma women's gymnastics team earned NACGC All-Academic honors, led by Caitlin Hinkis and Jessica Kinder, both of whom posted perfect 4.0 GPAs.

- First individual regional qualifier in program history

- ▼ Kindler and husband, Lou Ball, welcomed the birth of their second daughter, Adelaide, in September of 2008. She joins sister Maggie Grace (2) in the Ball family, who reside in Norman.

The pair were the only gymnasts in the Big 12 to notch 4.0 GPAs during both semesters. Six OU gymnasts were named to the 2008 Academic All-Big 12 Gymnastics Team, including four first-team members.

Prior to her hiring at OU, Kindler spent six seasons as the head coach at Iowa State.

"We are dedicated to filling our staff with the best and brightest minds in coaching," said OU Athletics Director Joe Castiglione, upon Kindler's hiring. "K.J. Kindler brings a reputation of great achievement in all aspects of leading a program."

"She impressed us not only with her accomplishment to this point, but with her lofty goals for the future and her plan for reaching those goals. We are thrilled to work with K.J. and her staff as we pursue championships."

Kindler's 2006 season culminated with Iowa State's third trip to the NCAA National Championships and its first appearance among the Super Six (teams that qualify from the preliminaries to compete for the national title).

The 24-10 Cyclones produced three All-Americans for a second consecutive season, while posting an undefeated mark at home, a 10-1 dual record and an 8-1 standard in duals against ranked opponents. The team also snapped Nebraska's 60-meet home winning streak.

The 2006 squad won its first Big 12 Championship since 2000, and three Cyclone gymnasts earned either an outright or a share of individual titles at the meet.

Since she took over head coaching duties at ISU in 2001, Kindler coached eight regional event champions, 11 NCAA individual championship qualifiers and 18 Big 12 champions (three all-arounders).

As an ISU gymnast, she was a three-time MVP for the Cyclones and runner-up in the all-around at the 1992 Big Eight Conference Championship. She was the school's first individual NCAA Regional qualifier, competing three times in the postseason meet.

Kindler hails from Lake Elmo, Minn., and trained under Mary Jane Olsen at Hamline University in St. Paul. In high school, she moved to Connecticut and trained under Frank and Laurie DeFrancesco at Arena Academy in Stamford and Walter Hawkes at Wilton High School. In Connecticut, she won many conference and state titles.

The eldest of five siblings, Kindler hails from a gymnastics family. One sister, Lori, competed at the University of Minnesota. She and her husband own and operate Flips Gymnastics in the Twin Cities area. Kindler's nieces, Emma and Lucy Kindler, enjoy recreational gymnastics.

Kindler is married to OU assistant coach Lou Ball. The couple has two daughters, Maggie (2), and Adelaide born in September of 2008.
