OKLAHOMA NOTES

CLOSER LOOK AT N.C. STATE

N.C. State opens its 2011 season against the Sooners on Friday, Jan. 14, at the Reynolds Coliseum in Raleigh, N.C., at 6 p.m. (CT).

Recently, the Pack was selected as the preseason favorite in the EAGL in a poll conducted by conference coaches.

The Wolfpack returns defending EAGL floor champion Brooke Barr, along with seniors Brittany Vontz and Brittney Hardiman, both former EAGL All-Tournament performers.

In 2010, NC State finished with a record of 17-6, finished second in the EAGL, and earned an eighth-straight NCAA Regional berth.

ROAD WARRIORS

The Sooners hope to repeat their road success in recent years throughout the 2011 season. In 2010, five of OU's highest scores came on the road. OU scored above a 196.500 in eight of its 10 road meets. In 2009, the Sooners set their season-high team score on the road (197.175 at TWU). OU posted five of its seven highest scores away from Norman in both the 2009 and 2008 seasons.

The Sooners are 30-5 on the road during the regular season under head coach K.J. Kindler.

DAZZLING DEBUTS

Seven of OU's 24 routines in the season opener were performed by freshmen, including at least two routines on every event except bars. Madison Mooring competed on three events (vault, beam and floor) for the Sooners after joining the team less than a month ago following her December high school graduation.

Hope Bruce and Taylor Spears both performed on two events, Bruce scored a 9.775 on vault while Spears posted a 9.775 on bars to tie for the highest score by a freshman in the meet.

A GROUP EFFORT

Oklahoma did not have an all-around competitor against Arkansas, which is nothing new for the Sooners. OU had an all-arounder just twice during OU's record-breaking 2010 season (Kayla Nowak at Illinois and Hollie Vise vs. Washington). The Sooners are the only squad currently ranked in the top 15 nationally that does not have a gymnast in the top 25 all-around rankings.

REGULAR SEASON SENSATIONS

Oklahoma is 56-6 in the regular season under Kindler. The Sooners finished the 2010 regular season as the only undefeated team in the NCAA at 14-0. OU has gone undefeated in the regular season twice in the past three seasons.

TOP-NOTCH SCHEDULING

The Sooners face eight teams currently ranked in the preseason top 25, including three top 10 teams and five programs that competed at the 2010 NCAA Championships. CollegeGymFans.com recently ranked OU at No. 10 nationally in strength of schedule.

CLOSER LOOK AT OKLAHOMA IN 2011

Oklahoma started the season ranked No. 4 nationally, the highest preseason ranking in program history. The back-to-back-to-back Big 12 Champions return nine members of the record-breaking 2010 squad, as the team looks to make its second-straight NCAA Super Six in 2011.

Headlining OU's returnees are Megan Ferguson and Natasha Kelley. Ferguson is a two-time All-American and was named All-Big 12 on both bars and beam in 2010. Kelley was named the 2010 Big 12 Newcomer of the Year and All-Big 12 on vault and bars. The redshirt-sophomore enters the 2011 season with a career-high 9.925 on vault and 9.9 on both bars and beam.

The Sooners welcome four newcomers for the 2011 season. Hope Bruce and Taylor Spears joined the team in the summer of 2010, while Madison Mooring and Hayden Ward began training with the team in December.

HOME SWEET HOME

The Sooners are 29-2 in Norman under fifth-year head coach K.J. Kindler. OU's only two losses at home have come against SEC opponents in Alabama and Arkansas. Top-seeded Alabama knocked off the Sooners en route to the NCAA South Central Regional title in 2008, while OU's loss to Arkansas in the 2009 home opener marked Oklahoma's only regular season home defeat in Kindler's tenure.

Among the 62 home wins since 2000 are notable victories over then-ranked No. 1 Alabama and then-No. 4 Florida in 2010 as well as wins over Auburn, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa State, Missouri, Nebraska, Penn State, Stanford and West Virginia.
