SCOUTING THE SOONERS

Oklahoma comes into the game with a 6-3 overall record; however it has dropped two of its last three games with losses at Wisconsin and against Wichita State.

In the team's last game against the Shockers, Jordan Woodard scored 28 points, hitting 7-of-17 shots from the field, 4-of-9 from long range, and all 10 of his charity stripe attempts. Christian James added 15 points, while Rashard Odomes chipped in 10. Khadeem Lattin led the team with eight rebounds and four blocked shots, while Darriion Strong-Moore dished out a team-best five assists while being held scoreless.

For the season, the Sooners put four players into double-digit scoring, led by Woodard's 17.1 point per game average. James averages 12.3 while Odomes and Lattin are at an even 10.0 points per game, each.

Lattin pulls down a team-best 6.6 rebounds per game - 21 total coming on the offensive end - while adding a team-best 21 blocked shots. Woodard also paces the team with 35 assists and 20 steals.

GETTING ON THE BOARD QUICKLY

Over Memphis' last six games, the first points of the game have come from graduate transfer senior forward Chad Rykhoek, including each of the last two games on a dunk. Dedric Lawson's free throw against Ole Miss was the only holdover of the stretch. Rykhoek has the first points of the game against Monmouth, UAB, Jackson State, Iowa, and Providence, while against McNeese he assisted on a Dedric Lawson lay-in.

FAMILIAR WITH THE STATE

Current University of Memphis assistant coach Pooh Williamson is familiar with the state of Oklahoma. Williamson grew up in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, which is located just south of Tulsa. He played collegiately at the University of Tulsa for current Memphis head coach Tubby Smith. After graduating, he later spent time as an assistant coach with the Golden Hurricane, and interim head coach for one half of a season.

TIE TO THE TIGERS

Oklahoma forward Khadeem Lattin, who ranks fifth in school history in career blocks, has a strong tie to the University of Memphis basketball program. Lattin's grandfather, David "Big Daddy" Lattin was a starter on the Texas Western 1966 National Championship team, later portrayed in the 2006 movie Glory Road. The primary assistant coach on that team was Moe Iba, who a season later became head coach of the Memphis basketball program, and was head coach of the Tigers for four seasons.

POSTIVE RATIO

This season the Memphis Tigers are setting new standards for assists, while also cutting down on the turnovers. As such, the Tigers rank fourth in the country in assist-to-turnover ratio. Memphis has dished out 201 assists this season against just 111 turnovers.

Rk.	School	Ast.	TO	Ratio
1.	Notre Dame	187	82	2.28
2.	UCLA	239	123	1.94
3.	Virginia	148	81	1.83
4.	Memphis	201	111	1.81
5.	West Virginia	174	100	1.74
6.	Kentucky	200	115	1.74
7.	St. Mary's	144	83	1.73

FACING OFF AGAINST THE FINAL FOUR

Memphis' game against Oklahoma will be the program's 35 against a team that had played in the NCAA Final Four a season before. Since the NCAA played its first championship in 1939, Memphis has an overall 15-19 record in those games; however, that number is deceiving, as Memphis has won eight of its last 10 such games, and seven of the last eight. In 2013 and 2014 Memphis swept the reigning National Champions, Louisville in 2013 and UConn in 2014. The team also picked up wins in 2007 against UCLA and Georgetown, and 2003 against Marquette.

ONE OF TWO IN THE NCAA

Dedric Lawson ranks 12th in the country in rebounds per game, and 43rd in the country in points per game. With that, he is currently the one of two players in NCAA Division I to average 20+ points and 10+ rebounds per game, joining Lehigh's Tim Kempton (22.8 points / 10.4 rebounds).

STRONG RUN

The University of Memphis is currently on an 10-game stretch in which 10 of the Tigers' opponents have an even record or better. Providence (8-2) started the streak which also includes Iowa, Ole Miss, UAB, Monmouth, Oklahoma, Incarnate Word, SMU, while South Carolina (8-1) is the tail end of the stretch.

TWO OF A KIND

When Tubby Smith and Lon Kruger meet on the court on Saturday morning, the pair will represent 100% of the collegiate basketball coaches to ever take five different schools to the NCAA Tournament. Smith has taken Tulsa, Georgia, Kentucky, Minnesota, and Texas Tech to the "Big Dance", while Kruger has helped lead Kansas State, Florida, Illinois, UNLV, and Oklahoma to the NCAA Tournament. The two also represent half of the NCAA active coaches to have led six different programs, with John Beilein and Ritchie McKay joining the two. Additionally, Kruger and Smith are separated by just four spots on the NCAA active list for coaching wins, Kruger at 14th, and Smith at 18th.

BLOCKING THE WAY

University of Memphis sophomore Dedric Lawson's eight blocked shots against UAB has him third in a pair of different rankings and lists, and fourth in another. His total is the third-highest single-game total in school history.

SOMEBODY'S WATCHING ME

University of Memphis sophomore forward Dedric Lawson probably has a lot in common with Rockwell after his collaboration with Michael Jackson in his 1984 hit. Lawson has been named to three watch lists for this coming season: the Karl Malone Power Forward of the Year Watch List, the Lute Olson Player of the Year Award Watch List, and the Naismith Player of the Year Watch List.

TIGERS SIGN THREE

The Memphis Tigers have signed three incoming players for the 2017-18 season, Jamal Johnson, David Nickelberry, and Victor Enoch.

Johnson, a 6-4, 188-pound Birmingham, Alabama native, is ranked No. 111 by Rivals.com, No. 151 by 247sports, and is the No. 8 combo guard in the country by 247sports.com. He averaged 18.1 points, 7.1 rebounds, and 4.3 assists per game as a junior for Spain Park High School, and helped his squad reach the Alabama Class 7A state semifinals. He was named Second Team All-State after his junior season.

Nickelberry, a 6-7, 210-pound guard/forward is a native of Orlando, Florida. He was named Preseason All-State earlier this month, and is ranked No. 140 by Rivals and No. 162 by 247sports. He averaged 16.4 points, 7.9 rebounds, 4.8 assists, and 3.1 steals per game last season, helping Windermere Prep to the Class 3A State Championship.

Enoch, a native of Nigeria, is a 6-8, 240-pound forward who is playing for Greenforest Christian High School in Decatur, Georgia. He is a three-star recruit and the 42nd rated power forward prospect by ESPN.com. He averaged eight points and 6.9 rebounds per game, while shooting 48 percent from the field to go with 28 blocked shots last season.

OLDER, YOUNGER BROTHER

Memphis has brothers on the team - K.J. and Dedric Lawson. In a strange twist of irony, the elder of the two brothers, K.J., is a freshman, where the younger of the brothers, Dedric, is a year ahead of his brother academically. Out of high school, Dedric, who is a year younger than K.J., reclassified so each would play at Memphis the same season. However, K.J. got hurt after playing just 10 games, and got a redshirt for the season, thus, K.J. the elder brother is still a freshman, where Dedric, the younger brother, is a sophomore.

TIGERS IN THE NBA

In the University of Memphis' illustrious basketball history, it has put 36 players into the NBA, including four who are currently in the highest level of basketball: Will Barton (Denver Nuggets), Tarik Black (Los Angeles Lakers), Tyreke Evans (New Orleans Pelicans), and Derrick Rose (New York Knicks). These four represent the other 32 players who have played in the league, in addition to the hundreds of former Tigers who have played in the NBA Developmental League and overseas.

Below are the highest point totals for the first two seasons in University of Memphis history.

ANOTHER REACHING TOWARDS A GRAND

It won't be officially recognized in the University of Memphis history books since the majority of the points came from another school, but graduate transfer guard Christian Kessee stands 198 points away from scoring 1,000 career points. Kessee opened his career at Coppin State, where he averaged 9.8 points per game over his three seasons, including 452 points for an average of 14.6 during his third and final season there, in addition to his 21 points as a Tiger.

PRESEASON AWARD HISTORY

For the first time since 2007-08, the Memphis Tigers have had a preseason Conference Player of the Year, when Dedric Lawson was given the preseason honor at the conference media day. The last time that a Memphis student-athlete was named preseason Player of the Year in 2007-08 when Chris Douglas-Roberts earned the honor from Conference USA.

MEMPHIS HEAD COACH TUBBY SMITH

Legendary basketball coach Tubby Smith, who guided the University of Kentucky to the 1998 NCAA title, is the 18th head coach in the storied history of the University of Memphis (UofM) basketball program.

Smith, who has a 564-279 current career record as head coach at Texas Tech, Tulsa, Georgia, Kentucky, Minnesota, and Memphis, is a three-time National Coach of the Year, and in 2016, was named The Sporting News National Coach of the Year, Big 12 Conference Coach of the Year, and John Wooden Legends of Coaching recipient. Since being named head coach at Memphis, Smith has also been the recipient of the Mannie Jackson Human Spirit Award. During a 10-year span between his tenures with three different programs (Tulsa, Georgia, and Kentucky), he advanced his team to the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 or beyond eight times.

"A historic hire for the University of Memphis," said President M. David Rudd of Coach Tubby Smith. "He is the most accomplished coach the UofM has ever hired. For the University of Memphis and our basketball program, Tubby Smith is simply the right guy at the right time."

Memphis Athletics Director Tom Bowen said "Tubby Smith is one of the finest collegiate basketball coaches and is a man of tremendous character. Nationally, he is highly respected as a leader of young men and as a teacher of the game. I am honored that Coach Smith has agreed to become the next head men's basketball coach at the University of Memphis."

Smith has led teams to one National Championship, four NCAA Tournament Elite Eight appearances, nine NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearances (a 30-16 record in NCAA Tournament games), and 17 overall NCAA Tournament berths. He has coached nine NBA draft picks and 19 former players have gone on to play in the NBA.

Prior to UofM, Smith served as head coach at Texas Tech for three seasons. During his time there, the team improved from 11-20 in 2012-13 (the year before Smith took control of the program), to 19-13 in 2015-16, and earned the program's first NCAA Tournament berth since 2004-05.

In 2015-16, Texas Tech made the program's first NCAA Tournament appearance since 2004-05, finishing with a record of 19-13. For his efforts in turning around the program – which included a 9-9 mark in a strong Big 12 Conference – he was named the Big 12 Coach of the Year, in addition to being named The Sporting News National Coach of the Year.

As an assistant and head coach, he has been a part of 758 collegiate wins and 23 trips to the NCAA Tournament since he began his collegiate coaching career as an assistant at Virginia Commonwealth (VCU) in 1979.

Following the 1990-91 season as an assistant coach with the Kentucky Wildcats, he earned his first head coaching position in 1991-92 with the Tulsa Golden Hurricane. At Tulsa, he went 79-43 over his four seasons, including back-to-back NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearances – the Golden Hurricane's first NCAA berths since 1986-87.

Smith continued his run of NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearances in his first season at Georgia, where he was named head coach starting with the 1995-96 season. He guided the Bulldogs to a 21-10 record in his first season, including the program's first NCAA Tournament win since the 1984-85 season and the longest tournament run for Georgia since 1982-83.

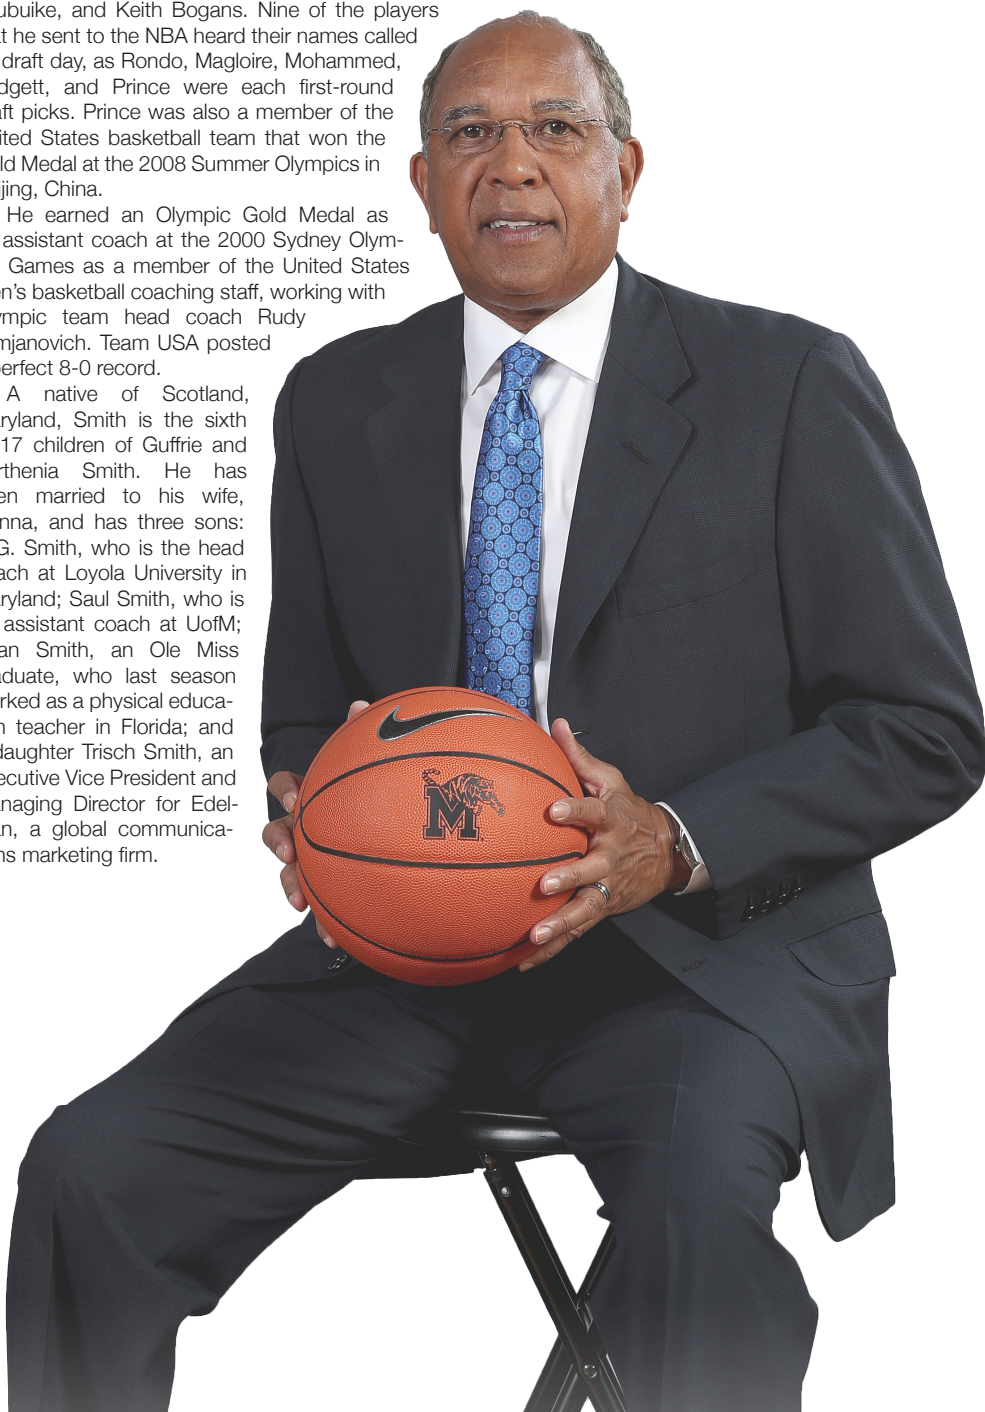

After the 1996-97 season, he was tabbed as the head coach at Kentucky. He took the reins of a program that had just seven players returning from an NCAA title game appearance the year before, and had the lowest preseason ranking for the program since 1991. A No. 2 seed in the South Region for the 1998 NCAA Tournament, the Wildcats won their first three games of the tournament by double-digits, before beating third-ranked and top-seeded Duke to advance to the Final Four. In the national semifinal, his squad beat Stanford in overtime, before topping Utah in the NCAA championship game.

He has sent 19 players to the NBA during his coaching career, including NBA Champions Rajon Rondo, Tayshaun Prince, and Shandon Anderson, as well as Jodie Meeks, Chuck Hayes, Nazr Mohammed, Scott Padgett, Jamaal Magloire, Kelenna Azubuike, and Keith Bogans. Nine of the players that he sent to the NBA heard their names called on draft day, as Rondo, Magloire, Mohammed, Padgett, and Prince were each first-round draft picks. Prince was also a member of the United States basketball team that won the Gold Medal at the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing, China.

He earned an Olympic Gold Medal as an assistant coach at the 2000 Sydney Olympic Games as a member of the United States men's basketball coaching staff, working with Olympic team head coach Rudy Tomjanovich. Team USA posted a perfect 8-0 record.

A native of Scotland, Maryland, Smith is the sixth of 17 children of Guffrie and Parthenia Smith. He has been married to his wife, Donna, and has three sons: G.G. Smith, who is the head coach at Loyola University in Maryland; Saul Smith, who is an assistant coach at UofM; Brian Smith, an Ole Miss graduate, who last season worked as a physical education teacher in Florida; and a daughter Trisch Smith, an Executive Vice President and Managing Director for Edelman, a global communications marketing firm.

Smith is a 1973 graduate of High Point (N.C.) College and was an all-conference performer as a senior, finishing his career as the seventh all-time leading scorer in program history. Smith, who earned his degree in health and physical education, was honored on Dec. 8, 2011, by his alma mater with a banner bearing his name that currently hangs from the rafters at the Millis Center. In May 2016, he was named to the High Point University Athletics Hall of Fame.
